MOMENT is a wellness collection celebrating the healing, sustainable and diverse benefits of hemp.

Mindfully crafted with nurturing and regenerative ingredients and materials, MOMENT by MoonCloth Designs offers a variety of plant-based skincare and hemp fabrics, all produced in harmony with the earth.

Hemp is regenerative.

Hemp has the potential to replenish soil, resulting in both carbon drawdown and improvement of the water cycle. Growing hemp positively impacts the environment. We take careful consideration of the development and design stages of our products to ensure that every item we create is thoughtful and environmentally responsible.

We aim to redefine the meaning of “wellness” and move towards a view that is all encompassing, considering health, beauty and ease for both your inner and outer environments.

Hemp for the win.

Hemp Seed Oil deeply penetrates the skin, going below the surface to balance the bodies natural sebum production. It's rich in essential fatty acids, which aids in calming inflammation, hydration and cellular repair.

This mighty, regenerative plant holds sustainability standards high. Hemp Fiber is free of synthetic material and micro-plastic. It's hypoallergenic and antimicrobial. It requires 50% less water to flourish and it produces more oxygen than any other commercial crop. And, the math shows more than 2,500 liters of water was saved by making these robes with hemp. What more can we say? Hemp, hemp hurray.

Meditation Oil

For breath practice + daily ritual

Anoint yourself with this woody, purifying oil to awaken the senses and ease into meditation. Nutrient-rich Hemp Seed Oil works in sync with your body to soothe and balance while Copal Resin and Palo Santo harness the power to ground and release. Traditionally used in shamanic rituals, these sacred plants work at an energetic level to focus the body, mind, and spirit, connecting you to your higher self. Take a moment for yourself, throughout the day, as a simple practice that will keep you balanced.

Key ingredients: Hemp Seed Oil + Copal Infused Jojoba + Palo Santo

Moon Glow Oil

For beauty + skin nourishment

Moon Glow Oil is as mighty as it is beautiful. This potent and luxurious oil delivers long-lasting moisture for smooth and supple skin. Offering an abundant dose of antioxidants and high levels of omega's; this synergistic blend of Hemp Seed Oil, Calendula and Rose is calming and regenerative, leaving you luminous.

Key ingredients: Hemp Seed Oil + Calendula + Rose Essential Oil

Sacred Space Mist

To inspire + energize your sacred space

We choose Hemp for heightened vibrations, hydration and healing. This transformative facial mist is equal parts skin tonic and mood regulator. It's brimming with the potent yet calming benefits of Hemp, Lavender, Patchouli and Clary Sage. This plant remedy will tone and brighten the skin and refresh your aura. A spritz for higher spirits.

Restful Warrior Eye Mask

Made with Sustainable Hemp Fiber + Pure Silk

Thoughtfully created in partnership with beloved Brooklyn based designer Earthen Warrior, this deep sleep-inducing eye mask invites you to your soundest slumber. It has a protective outer layer made of sustainable hemp and soft silk lining the inside, designed with your delicate eye area in mind. The smooth fibers of silk allow moisture to remain in the skin. Slip it on and sink into dreamstate. Rest, rejuvenate and awaken the true warrior within.

MOMENT Tradition Kimono

A design devoted to the long time uses of hemp and Japanese bathing culture. A fabric belt is attached at the sides and can wrap around from the front or back to tie. This hemp silk robe is luxury at it's best. Uniquely blended with hemp and pure silk, free of harmful synthetic and polyester materials. The tightly woven, smooth fibers of silk allow moisture to remain in the skin. Soft to the touch, this robe has a lightly weighted feel creating a beautiful shape as it falls against any body type.

Fireside Fleece Robe

Made with Sustainable Hemp Fiber + Organic Cotton

Our hemp fleece robe is lined with soft fleece for extra warmth. Designed with ultimate comfort in mind, this robe is bound to be your first pick when it comes to fall and winter loungewear. This robe will keep you toasty and warm, perfect for apres wear from the mountain to the hot tub. Hemp has natural antibacterial properties to ward away bacteria and mold so you can wear it more and wash it less. Sustainability has never felt so good.

Coastal Terry Robe

Made with Sustainable Hemp Fiber + Organic Cotton

Our terry blend robe is well-loved for a reason. It's breathable fibers and soft texture make it fit for any occasion (we've worn this out as an extra layer in the colder months!). Designed with ultimate relaxation in mind, this robe makes for a perfect lounging experience.

In this moment and every moment there are whispers, visions, signs, manifestations, clarity, purpose, love, revealing not secrets but answers to your soul path.

Above MoonCloth partnered with Alexander Diaz Andersson, a Swedish-Mexican designer based in Mexico City and Creative Director of Atra, to design the most elegant take on eco hemp furniture. This collection was created to shift perception behind what others believe hemp could or could not do from both visual aesthetic and functional design and remind consumers that wellness begins with what we surround ourselves with day to day.

Left Side MoonCloth designed and manufactured two bespoke eco hemp textile prints with LA based artist , Ethan Lipsitz. The artistry presented in this project is unique, and the materials are as durable as they are beautiful. The furniture pieces can be seen on the roof top as well as the floor terrace of the new Soho House Downtown LA Warehouse location.

“We’re driven to bring more sustainable product solutions into our world. Hemp seed oil and hemp fabric are great eco materials that allows us to create natural experiences without sacrificing design aesthetic.”

- Sarah and Kelsi

MoonCloth Designs Founders, Sarah Harf and Kelsi Lavicka, have an ever-expanding connection to nature, ceremony, and bathing culture. Rooting from their personal exploration of natural beauty and the daily practice of self care, MOMENT by MoonCloth came to be. With the driving belief that the deepest connection to nature is the one we have with ourselves, MOMENT is intended to transcend beyond skincare into the realm of self discovery.

MoonCloth Designs is inspired to work closely with hospitality brands and wellness environments. MOMENT by Mooncloth Designs is their way of encouraging others to take the spa experience home with them, as an invitation to weave grounding moments into their daily lives. This all spans from Sarah and Kelsi's belief that as one becomes more in touch with their higher being through ritual, the more connected we feel to our environment and our natural self.
